S ince childhood, Dr. Robyn Siperstein has been an avid artist who sold her glass and ceramic sculptures throughout the Northeast. "I feel incredibly grateful that aesthetic dermatology provides an outlet to express my artistic talents," says the Yale graduate, board-certified dermatologist and well-known speaker in cosmetic dermatology. "And with the face as my canvas, I find great satisfaction in helping each of my patients achieve the beautiful, natural-looking results they have always wanted." The entire team at Siperstein Dermatology Group is committed to providing the highest-quality, personalized dermatologic care for all patients in their state-of-the-art offices.
